The local draft board late yesterday afternoon received a telegram from Adjutant General Stern, Richmond, Va., advising the board not to entrain any more men or call any more men for entrainment on any call already made. Men already on way to camps will be returned to local boards the telegram states.

Another telegram was received by the board from Adjutant General Stern is as follows: "Do not slow up physical examination or classification but rush to completion."

The local board is busy classifying the men in the recent draft who have already returned their questionnaires and today the rooms of the board were crowded with persons having the men designated for that purpose assist them in filling out their questionnaires.

Each day the draft board is sending out 250 questionnaires to registrants.

Each registrant has seven days in which to fill in and return the questionnaire to the local draft board.

CARNIVAL SPIRIT REIGNS

Celebrate End of Big War—Thousands of Merry Makers Join in Festivities Last Night and Noise Making Devices of All Kinds Let Loose.

Carnival spirit reigned in this city last night in the victory celebration. The streets were thronged until a late hour and noise making devices of every kind and description were put into operation and the racket was kept up until a late hour.

The younger population had the time of their lives and the older ones as well. There were no restrictions on the celebrators and everything turned loose. The marrymakers certainly enjoyed the evening of fun which was started in early. Horn blowing added to the noise.

Some said it was a peace celebration and others said it was victory celebration. However, it mattered not to the celebrations for they were out to celebrate the ending of the war and nothing more, and they certainly did it.

Several thousand citizens went over to Washington and joined in the festivities in that city. The merrymakers in that city had a rip roaring time of it and the snatching of hats, both men and women, was in order during the evening and all seemed to take the innovation good naturedly.

WORKERS ORGANIZE

W. L. Duncan, of Dupont Powder Company, Plans for Industrial Workers Participating in United War Drive—To Give One Pay Day a Month for Three Months.

W. L. Duncan of the Dupont Powder Company yesterday visited the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, the Alexandria Iron Works, the Alexandria Aircraft Corporation, the Alexandria Fertilizer & Chemical Company, the Corby Baking Company, the National Fruit Products Co., and the Virginia Feed and Milling Company and held conferences with the representatives of other large factories here in the interest of the United War Work Fund Campaign. Mr. Duncan has been successful in organizing the workers in the Dupont plants and in Lynchburg, Richmond, Danville, West Point and the Shipyard at Newport News.

The industrial workers of Virginia have worked out plans which provide that each man will give one day per month for three months to help furnish funds for the seven organizations now campaigning for thirty thousand dollars in this city. The men in the army and navy have worked thirty days, twenty-four hours each day, while these pursuing peaceful employment are only asked to give one days pay per month for three months. Remember that these men will continue their services until the army is demobilized. These plans have appealed to the working men elsewhere because of their fairness and labor leaders of the country have endorsed the campaign and the local committee has special pledge cards for this work. A special committee is today actively following up the work started by Mr. Duncan and it is believed that thousands of dollars will be subscribed by the men and women employed in the factories of this city.

GRAND THEATRE

"Mothers of Liberty" the sensational film success of the year, is announced as an early booking at the Grand Theatre. Many patrons of this playhouse having requested the management to secure this wonderful attraction. It is described as a patriotic spectacle of unsusal interest to both sexes, but with a particular appeal to women, whose trials, perplexities and sacrifices in the present hour are graphically presented. Although primarily a love story, it has remarkable wide scope in dealing with the psychology of war, covering in a comprehensive way the problem of the day, and those that confronted the simple, honest folk of Alsace-Lorraine nearly half a century ago.

In their latest comedy drama, "Social Quicksands," which will be the attraction at the Grand theatre tomorrow, Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne are supported by a cast of popular players of the stage and screen. This Metro All-Star Series picture was directed by Charles J. Brabin.

KAISER IN HOLLAND

Regarded as Unwelcome Guest by the Dutch—Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, Flees From Liege Where Garrison Revolts.

London, Nov. 12.—The former Kaiser and fifty members of his party have been interned by the Dutch authorities at Chateau Joachim, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mail. The chateau is located between Utrecht and Arnhem.

The dispatch says that when the special train on which William Hohenzollern fled from Germany arrived at Eysden, Holland, he was not aboard. He arrived later by motor car, having left the train because shots were fired through the window of the coach he occupied.

The former emperor joined his officers on the platform of the station at Eysden. He was looking haggard and broken down. He walked up and down the platform slowly and then entered the train.

Amsterdam, Nov. 12. — William Hohenzollern, the former German emperor, his eldest son and Field Marshal von Hindenburg are in a railway train near the station of Eysden awaiting the decision of the Dutch government. The blinds on the train are down.

Amsterdam, Nov. 12.—Officials of the Dutch government and the German Minister at The Hague, have gone to Eysden to meet the former emperor.

It is stated on good authority here that the former emperor will be interned in Holland.

The Handelsblad says it learns the Dutch government will object to the former emperor residing in Holland.

Emperor William, it is reported here, was on his way to the British lines to surrender, when he was headed off by German revolutionists and forced to seek safety in Holland.

The Hague, Nov. 12.—Crown Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria, commander of the German northern army group, and his staff, have fled from Liege where the garrison has revolted, according to the Belgian newspaper, Les Nouvelles. The officers at Liege the newspaper adds, have been deposed and the red flag hoisted.

Paris, Nov. 12.—During revolutionary disorders at Cologne a crowd tried to demolish with machine gun fire a statue of William II, but finally contented itself by ruffling up the statue and placing upon it a card in scripted 'A Good Journey." It is reported that Prince Henry of Prussia fled to Denmark, taking with him his personal fortune.

It is reported that the Dutch frontier is completely open and many German officers are seeking refuge in Holland.

Basle, via Paris, Nov. 12.—The King of Saxony has been deposed, according to a Berlin dispatch. The King of Saxony is Friedrich August III. He succeeded to the throne on the death of his father, October 15, 1904.

Emperor William's last words before his signature to the abdication document were:

"Let us not lose our faith in the future."

The Crown Prince, who was present "cried like a baby," according to an official telegram from Amsterdam today, in which the scene of abdication was described. It says:

"The Kaiser signed his letter of abdication in the presence of the Crown Prince and Hindenburg, and all the officers of the General Headquarters and of all his private servants. He appeared to be deeply moved. He signed, saying: 'May it be for the good of Germany. Let us not lost our faith in the future.'

"The Crown Prince, who was crying like a baby, signed his letter of renunciation of the throne shortly afterward.

"The Emperor committed to Hindenburg the charge of making the facts known to the troops and the Government."

TIME LIMIT EXTENDED

Huns Given Additional Day to Evacuate Territory on Left Bank of Rhine.

London, Nov. 12.—The period given for the evacuation of the left bank of the Rhine by the German forces has been extended by 24 hours, according to a French wireless dispatch received here.

This dispatch gives the first news that the left or west bank of the Rhine is to be evacuated by the Germans. It indicates that pending final adjustment of the boundary at the peace conference the Germans will be required to relinquish control not only of Alsace-Lorraine but of the remainder of Germany west of the Rhine. This territory is roughly 20,000 square miles in extent, with a population of about 9,000,000. It includes some of the most important mining and manufacturing districts of Germany and such great centers as Cologne, Strassburg, Metz and Essen, home of the Krupp works.

The territory west of the Rhine consists of Alsace-Lorraine, the Palatinate, the Rhine province, Birkenfeld and about one-third of Hesse.

The Rhine province is the largest of these districts. Its area is 10,423 square miles and the census of 1910 gave its population at 55,759,000. It contains great coal and metal deposits and some of the largest iron and steel manufacturing centers of Germany. There also are textile industries on a vast scale as well as extensive farming and wine growing regions. The most important cities are Cologne, Essen, Dusseldorf, Coblenz, Bonu and Aix-la-Chapelle. It is the most westerly province of Prussia, by which it was acquired in 1815.

RICHMOND THEATRE

Wallace Reid, one of the most popular screen stars in the country, will appear in the latest Paramount photoplay "The Man From Funeral Range," at the Richmond tonight.

This is an exceptional photoplay, a picturization of Ernest Wilkes' play, "Broken Threads," directed by Walter Edwards, which is a guarantee of its excellence as a picture.

The story deals with the adventures of a young prospector in the west who is convicted of a crime of which he is innocent and which involves him in serious trouble. The love element is strong and the situations are unusually thrilling. The Pathe weekly news also will be shown.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

Thanksgiving Services Planned For All Churches on That Day

The Ministerial Association of the city has designated Sunday as "Go to Church Sunday." All persons are urged on that day to go to some church whether they are members or not. From every pulpit in the city sermons appropriate to the winning of the war will be delivered by the pastors. The theme will be "Peace." It is believed that there will be a general outpouring of all citizens on Sunday to the different churches in thanksgiving of the cessation of hostilities and for the victory attained by the United States and her allies.

ALLIES DRASTIC TERMS

Sign Agreement Which Renders Them Hords de Combat—Nation Loses Territory and Business Crippled—War Now Virtually at an End.

Paris, Nov. 12.—German armistice envoys sobbed when they heard the terms of the truce, according to details received here today concerning this momentous event.

Dr. Mathias Erzberger, a clerical leader, was one of the first speakers in the armistice conference. Addressing Marshal Foch, he said:

"Marshal, have you any sympathy for the German population? We want peace."

Marshal Foch replied: "Sir, I have the terms of the protocol, which, being signed, will bring peace."

Immediately the generalissimo began reading. As he proceeded, the Germans broke into tears.

Signed on Train.

The signatures were finally affixed to this momentous document aboard a private train used by Marshal Foch as his headquarters.

The German commissioners assented to the following terms dictated by the allies:

Cessation of all military and naval operations.

Immediate evacuation of invaded countries.

German troops not withdrawn to be imprisoned.

Repatriation within two weeks of people enslaved in Germany.

Associated powers to occupy left Rhine countries.

Germany must support army of occupation.

No damage shall be done by German troops evacuating.

Germans must reveal all poisoned wells.

Germany must reveal mines in evacuated territory.

Repatriation of all war prisoners in Germany without reciprocity.

All German troops to withdraw within German frontiers.

German troops immediately cease all requisitions.

All stolen money must be restored.

Treaties of Bucharest and Brest-Litvosk abandoned.

Unconditional capitulation of German forces in East Africa.

The war thus comes to an end; for, having accepted these terms of armistice, it will be impossible for the German command to renew it.

THE DRIVE NETS $2,005

Total for Two Days Collected for United War Campaign $7,739—House to House Canvass Sunday Afternoon by Workers.

The second day of the United War Campaign drive today resulted in collections in cash and pledges amounting to $2,005. Collections and pledges given yesterday were $5,734 making a total for the two days of $7,739. About twenty-five citizens were today engaged in the work.

At 12:30 o'clock this afternoon the solicitors were tendered a luncheon in the ratskeller of the Enlisted Men's Club as guests of Carroll Pierce. The luncheon was served by a committee of women.

The total to be raised for Alexandria is $30,000. Everybody is urged to give liberally for this worthy cause. The indications are that the American troops will be doing duty overseas for at least a year to come and and without the money given by the American people the seven great agencies looking after the welfare of the soldiers will have to discontinue their splendid work which is acknowledged by all to be the best being furnished by any nation engaged in the work of looking after the welfare of the soldiers.

At the luncheon today S. H. Glidden, of the Welfare Department of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, was the guest of honor.

Plans have been formulated for a house to house canvass Sunday afternoon between 2 and 5 o'clock for the purpose of winding up the campaign and the ministers of the churches will on Sunday ask the church goers, as they have already done, to assist in this worthy cause to their ability.

The women engaged in collecting thus far have collected at the rate of $300 a day.

Rev. Dr. E. V. Regester, pastor of the M. E. Church South, will at 8 o'clock tonight deliver an illustrated lecture on the work in the Young People's Building. The public is invited.

DENOUNCE ARMISTICE

German Revolutionary Council Declares Terms Are Unjust, and Summon Sailors to Defend Country—Order Assembling of Submarines.

London, Nov. 12.—The German revolutionary council in command of the German fleet, denouncing the armistice terms as "unjust," particularly the continuation of the blockade, has summoned all sailors "to defend the country."

It has ordered all submarines in the Baltic to assemble immediately in the harbor of Sassnitz, on the east coast of the Island of Ruegen.

It announces that a strong British naval force is off the Skaw (Skajen), a Danish seaport at the northern extremity of Jutland, off which island the great sea battle was fought in 1916.

The German order was intercepted by the British admiralty wireless, and was given out here last night. It was sent by the "command and sailors council," which appears to have headquarters on the German battleship Strassburg. The order reads as follows:

"To all ships, destroyers and submarines in the North Sea and Baltic:

"The allies' armistice terms are drastic. They entail our destruction.

"The enemy terms are unjust. The blockade of the German people, in defiance of international law, continues.

"German comrades! Defend your country against such unheard of presumption! A strong English force is off Skaw.

"All submarines in the Baltic are to assemble immediately in the harbor of Sassnitz."

"JOY TO THE WORLD"

The hell of hate is over.
The Huns' last card is played;
The poppies and the clover
Shall deck again the glade;
And right and truth have battered
The ranks of wrong to death,
And love, from ramparts shattered,
Is on the morning's breath!!!

The words at the head of this article form part of the first words of a well-known hymn. They were doubtless hummed by many thankful persons yesterday and last night during the peace celebrations in the allied capitals and in other places where neutrality had been observed during the past four years of war. Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Switzerland, Holland and Spain, countries which suffered from the cruel Hun, breathed freer as they realized that the German menace was no more and that the Goddess of Liberty had prevailed over the fierce Bellona. Not a shred of prestige, no means of "saving its face" has been left to the German supreme command. Its arrogant war lord and his eldest son are in ignominious flight; the score of monarchs and ruling princes, his confederates, have lost their thrones, while his paladins, on whom he counted to break the world to his will, stand today, with their armies, before a shameful surrender.

As a contemporary says, one by one the inexorable clauses of the text of the armistice strip Germany of every shred of conquest. Her armies are disarmed, her territory occupied, her plunder in money and material wrested from her. Her high sea fleet, the proud creation of half a century of effort, will, in a few days, be in the hands of her adversaries.

In no country and at no epoch was such a well-deserved humiliation ever inflicted on any great power. The treaties she entered into when her triumph was at its zenith are declared to be "scraps of paper," torn up and scattered to every wind that blows.

A large percentage of the people of Alexandria visited Washington yesterday afternoon and last night where they participated in the festivities of the capital city.

While the turnout in our own city was not great, the streets were alive with people and the boy and his horn were in evidence. Old and young alike mingled in joyous expressions of thanksgiving to the Lord of Hosts who had not allowed Might to dominate over Right.

Like all occasions where large numbers of persons are gathered disorders are reported in certain places, but, fortunately, nothing of a serious nature occurred.

London and Paris were painted red last night. Scenes in the neighborhood of the Bank of England and the Mansion House were especially animating, as were those in many places in the French capital.

The Huns at the beginning of the war said they would capture channel ports and place a knife at the throat of Great Britain. Albion now has a knife upon the throat of the arrogant Teuton and the latter is asking for mercy.

General Grant at the close of the war between the States said "Now let us have peace." The civilized world today is repeating his words.

MUSIC IN WAR

The October number of "The Confederate Veteran," published in Nashville, Tenn., has been received. It contains much matter of interest to those who wore the gray, while its articles can be read with profit by all. One of the most interesting of the articles in the October number is one from Judge J. T. Goolrich, of Fredericksburg, who is well-known in Alexandria. It is entitled "Music in War."

The Judge says many things which are suggestive. He calls attention to the jubilation among the Children of Israel after their escape from their former taskmasters, and says:

"Not only has song been invoked ere the battle was begun, but afterwards for the victory won. In full testimony of this we have heard the beautiful and triumphant song of Miriam, sister of Moses, as recorded in the Bible, for the great victory of the Israelites over the Egyptians, who were pursuing them in order to force their fetters farther on them and hold them longer in their bondage. When the Lord opened wide the waters of the Red Sea to make a pathway for the Israelites, closing them upon the advancing Egyptians, she then sang: 'I will sing unto the Lord, for he has triumphed gloriously; the horse and the rider hath he thrown into the sea.'"

Civilization having prevailed over the fierce German and our world been rendered a fit habitation for mankind, the reference made by Judge Goolrich is applicable at this day and hour.

EJECTING BERCHTOLD

Count Berchtold has been heard from at last, and he is beginning to experience the horrors of war with its external enemies by committing hari-kari. Berchtold is the flippant person who struck a match to light his cigarette when he was in the powder magazine of the world in July, 1914.

He escaped personal injury; but after marveling for a time at the conflagration he had started, he became conscious that there was no more mischief that he could do, and he retired from the Austrian Foreign Office, where he had composed that preposterous ultimatum to Servia with a time limit of 48 hours, which he refused to extend at the earnest solicitation of England, France and Russia, and where he had announced to the world, but without replying to Servia, that the reply from Belgrade was unsatisfactory, and telephoned over to his colleague, the Minister of War, that he might fire when he was ready, in the immortal language of Dewey to Gridley at Manila Bay.

He had achieved a reputation. He had done more mischief than a person of his size had ever done before since the creation of the world; and of course the duties of his office were tame and trivial after that, so he retired, conscious of the same sort of immortality that was achieved by the ambitious youth who fired the Ephesian dome.

Nothing has been heard from him since, until last Saturday a traveler arrived at Zurich from Vienna with the shocking news that lawless crowds invaded the train at every station, and, finding no seats, actually fired Count Berchtold and the Prince of Schoenburg out of the train and appropriated their places.

The Prince is a reigning monarch. The Count is an Austrian nobleman, and Austrian noblemen are a little higher up than any other noblemen. They are a finer quality of goods. They are less accustomed to being handled. When these two were thrown out of a railway train to make room for common people who do not know whether they had grandfathers or not they must have realized that the foundations of the universe had given way and demos was very much to the fore.

An exchange in commenting on the incident says these be parlous times for statesmen of the Metternich school who have, unfortunately for themselves and everybody else, survived to the present day.

THE SPIDER AND THE HUN

An exchange makes a comparison between the Hun and the spider, which is suggestive.

When two or more spiders fight there is usually a good reason for the furious attack and vigorous defense that always follow.

It is not generally known that after a certain time has elapsed spiders become incapable of spinning a web through lack of sufficient material. The glutinous substance from which the spider spins its slender web is limited; therefore, spiders cannot keep up the construction of new snares for their prey when the old are destroyed.

Very often when the web material is exhausted they are able to avail themselves of the web-producing powers of their younger or more fortunate neighbors, and this they do without any scruple whatsoever.

As soon as a spiders web-constructing material has become exhausted and its last web destroyed, it usually sets out in search of another home, and unless it should find one that is unoccupied, a battle usually ensues, which ends only with the retreat or death of the invader or defender.

Such a struggle is intensely interesting, and will reveal some wonderful tactics and skill in spider warfare. The invader usually comes off victorious, although in some cases the defender offers such a stiff fight that it is able to hold its own in spite of the attack of the intruder which is in desperate straits.

One curious fact is that the web material will increase after so long a period, and the spider will spin a net in which to snare its many varieties of prey in the form of different species of insects.

WHY MACHEN SMILES

Arrival of Son and Heir Brings Joy to Household.

A Richmond paper says: Former State Senator Lewis H. Machen, of the legislative reference bureau, a former resident of this city, is receiving congratulations from his hundreds of friends—it is a boy. Today Senator Machen is smiles, happiness, twenty years younger, at peace with the world. He said: "The young man arrived too late to be of any assistance to the Democrats in the recent election, but he is here in ample time to help win the war, and is in the infantry. I think he will be a military man or a 'prize-fighter, for he is decidedly 'pugnoseous,' in disposition. Possibly he may later be a valuable member of the Virginia legislature, for his lung power is of the type that bespeaks a hearing." Mother and son are doing well. Senator Machen is today looking at boy's uniforms and equipment, including sleighs and roller skates.

KISSED FLAG AS PENALTY

Unpatriotic Remark Leads to Arrest And Unusual Sentence.

Baltimore, Nov. 12.—The fine imposed on Andy Stein, 204 South High street, yesterday afternoon by Magistrate Lambie, in the Eastern Police Court, who, with Efannio Donota, 1300 Gough street, was arrested on being disorderly, was to kiss the American flag.

Stein approached Donota, who was carrying the flag in celebration of peace, and asked to shake hands. The latter asserted he did not know Stein and refused. A quarrel ensued, when Stein was alleged to have made an unpatriotic remark. For this Donota insisted that he kiss the American emblem and, holding him against the wall, is said to have struck him. Patrolman Fritzel happened along and arrested the pair. Donota was fined $5 and costs on the charge of assault. He paid and left the stationhouse with a smile, as Stein was compelled to do as he asked.

WAR'S CASUALTIES ESTIMATED AT 26,000,000

London, Nov. 12.—The Express estimates the casualties of European nations during the war as follows:

Germany	6,900,000

Great Britain	2,900,000
Turkey	750,000
Belgium	350,000
Roumania	200,000
Bulgaria	200,000

Adding the casualties of Russia and others not estimated in the above list the Express puts the total casualties of the war at 26,000,000 men.

HUN DOMINATION GONE

After the War Germany Will Find America Strong Competitor in Markets She Once Owned.

When Germany finally signs the peace treaties she will find that the United States is a new and strong competitor in markets she formerly dominated.

Before the war the Germans grew rich on their sales to America of analine dyes, potash, fine and pharmaceutical chemicals, clay for graphite crucibles and optical glass and instruments. Moreover, Germany controlled the markets of the world in these commodities.

War Industries Board officials announce that America has not only met her war requirements in these but that soon she will be able successfully to compete in them, despite Germany's cheaper labor and large natural resources.

Valuable soluble potash fields have been discovered in Utah, Nevada, California and other sections of the West. These, coupled with lowering of costs of production through new processes and the standardization of old processes, worked out by the chemical division of the board, will meet the demand.

Increasing demand for fertilizer in America, through abnormal demand for foodstuffs and consequent wearing of the soil, created a shortage which America was forced to meet. This demand will not diminish, experts say, but the full development of the newly discovered resources after the war will give America a doubly strong position in the potash market.

ALIVE AFTER 125-FOOT FALL

Soldier Plunges From Top of Flag Pole And Lands On Auto.

Jersey City, N. J., Nov. 12.—Thousands of spectators yesterday watched Robert Simpson, soldier in the Army Signal Corps, climb a five-story building and to the top of a flagpole on the roof, 125 feet from the ground, lose his hold, plunge to the street, and escape death.

He landed on the cloth top of a moving automobile. The driver rushed with him to a hospital, where it was found he was injured, but not seriously to jump from his bed and salute an officer who came to ascertain his condition. Simpson climbed the building as a Liberty Day "stunt."

READY TO ASSIST GERMANY

Will Try, If Possible, To Save Country From Horrors of Anarchy and Rebellion.

The United States and Allied nations will take prompt steps to assist the new German Government in averting anarchy as an outgrowth of the Teuton revolution.

The same measures for supplying foodstuffs and other supplies for Germany are expected to be taken immediately, as in the case of Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey.

To formulate plans for feeding the civilian population and thereby reduce the tendency to Bolshevism Herbert Hoover leaves this week for Europe. He will be accompanied by Chairman Hurley, of the Shipping Board, and probably Chairman Vance McCormick and Bernard Baruch, of the War Trade Board and War Industries Board, respectively, all of which organizations are now vitally concerned in the after-the-war reconstruction problems facing the world.

While reports on conditions in Germany can give scant idea of the tremendous upheaval within her borders, they are sufficient to carry a note of warning. Socialism has apparently swept into power through a virtually bloodless revolution from border to border. Reports indicate that the various kings have abdicated hastily, and the Soldiers and Workmen's Councils have proclaimed republics in Schleswig-Holstein, Wurttemberg, Saxony, and other states. The Kaiser has apparently fled to Holland, leaving the Government in the hands of Prince Max and Chancellor Ebert, the latter a Socialist leader of the Reichstag of considerable imperialist tendency.

At this hour when socialism is presumably on trial in Germany the Allied nations stand ready, it was stated today, to do everything necessary to help Germany democratize.

Allied diplomats and neutrals were a unit today in declaring that Germany must be saved, if possible, from the fate she imposed on Russia by anarchy and rebellion. Hence, it appears likely that a definite course of action in the form of proposed assistance for Germany will come out of the Allied councils very soon.

SEMINARY NOTES

Thanksgiving For Victorious Ending of the War.

The trustees of the Episcopal Theological Seminary near this city, will hold their semi-annual meeting tomorrow (Wednesday, the 13th instant), at ten o'clock in the library. Only general business will be transacted. There will be a corporate communion of the trustees, professors and students of the Seminary held in the chapel before the session begins. Bishops Gibson and Brown, of Virginia, arrived this evening.

Professor Rollins has been confined to his room for about a week with a bad cold, but is much better now.

A service of thanksgiving for the victorious ending of the great war on the part of this country and the entente allies was held in the Seminary Chapel last evening. Bishop Gibson and the professors were in the chancel and special prayers and hymns were read and sung.

Some of the residents of the 'Hill' were awakened at half-past four yesterday morning by the ringing of bells and blowing of whistles in Alexandria. At first it was thought that there was a large fire somewhere in the city, but seeing no evidences of that, the early risers came to the conclusion that the armistice had been signed by the German authorities, followed by the end of the war, and a righteous peace.

While every one rejoiced because the war was at an end, there were few outward signs of this on the Hill, probably because there was a full celebration last week when the premature news of this was received.

KINGDOMS KINGLESS

Saxony's Throne Now Tottering—51,000,000 Leaderless

New York, Nov. 12.—Up to a day or two days ago there were four Kingdoms, within the German empire, namely, Prussia, Bavaria Saxony and Wurttemberg. All but Saxony are today kingless and thronless. The situation in Saxony is not clear from the dispatches. Germany's total population is, roughly, 70,000,000. The populations of the three revolutionized kingdoms are:

Prussia, 41,000,000.
Bavaria, 7,000,000.
Wurttemberg, 3,000,000.
Total, 51,000,000.

Of the remaining 19,000,000 inhabitants of the empire, it is safe to say, on the strength of all dispatches, that the majority has joined the revolt.

It should be pointed out, however, that the population figures include the men in the army, and the status of Germany's fighting forces in the west is undermined. The strength of the three "kingless kingdoms" is:

Prussia, 500,000.
Bavaria, 100,000.
Total, 650,000.

Late dispatches last night report the King of Saxony also is about to abdicate, if he has not already done so. He is Frederich August III, whose personal life was exposed some years ago by his divorced wife, the princess Louise of Tuscany.

Saxony's population is approximately 5,000,000. Its army numbers about 150,000.

INDIAN HEAD PLANT HALTS

Secretary Daniels Also Stops Explosive Works—All Overtime And Sunday Work on Contracts Cut.

Secretary Daniels announced last night that he had ordered work stopped on the new naval explosive plant in Wisconsin and that the projected $9,000000 naval nitrate plant at Indian Head, Md., would not be built.

Secretary Daniels announced that no immediate steps would be taken toward demobilizing any part of the naval forces of the United States.

Orders stopping all overtime and Sunday work on Government war contracts were authorized today after a conference of Secretaries Baker and Daniels and Chairman Hurley, of the Shipping Board.

HALTS DRAFT CALLS

Men Ready to Depart for Camps Are Sent Home

Movement of men to training camps was ordered stopped by the President early yesterday morning, after definite news of the signing of the armistice was received. Gen. Crowder at once sent telegrams to all district boards. The messages were ready in advance, and when word came from the War Department that was necessary was for Gen. Crowder's night force to send them.

In a few cases where men of the draft amounting to 252,000 ordered to camps during the five days beginning today had started entraining before 6 o'clock, the telegrams failed to catch them. Wires were at once dispatched to their commanding officers on the trains and at the camps of destination to turn the men back.

They, with all other registered and uncalled men, retain their status under the draft classification and are subject to call should peace fail to follow the armistice.

SOLF ASKS FOR MERCY

Former Foreign Minister Begs Wilson to Provide Food for Starving Women and Children in Germany.

Amsterdam, via London, Nov. 12.—Dr. W. S. Solf, who was German foreign minister under Prince Max's chancellorship, and who appears to have retained that office—though this is not certain at this moment yesterday issued a signed appeal to President Wilson, in the name of the German people, "to use his influence with the allies to mitigate these fearful conditions" (meaning the armistice terms).

Dr. Solf says:

"After a blockade of Germany lasting fifty months, and still in force, the armistice contents, especially the surrender of the transports and sustenance of the army of occupation, make it an impossibility to provide Germany with food, and would cause the starvation of millions of German women, children and men.

"The enforcement of these terms would produce a feeling among the German people contrary to the reconstruction of the community of nations.

"The German people appeal to President Wilson to influence the allies to mitigate these fearful conditions."

Dr. Solf's appeal says:

"Convinced of the common aims of democracy, the German government requests President Wilson to re-establish the peace principles which he has always maintained."

Swift & Company ... Plant 1918
One of Our 22 Packing Plants in U.S.A.

Unlike Topsy—
Swift & Company
Has Not "Jest Growed"

Swift & Company, in fifty years of well ordered growth, has become one of the great national services because it has learned to do something for the American people which they needed to have done for them, in the way in which they preferred to have it done.

It has met each successive demand, in the changing conditions of nation... good meat to increasing millions ... economically, and expeditiously.

The Swift & Com... plants, refrigerator cars, car routes, branch houses, organization, and personnel of today are the practical solutions, born of practical experience, to the food problems of a half a century.

Because of all of these elements working in correlation and unison, Swift & Company is able to supply more and better meat to more people than would have been possible otherwise, at a net profit per pound of meat so low (a fraction of a cent) that the consumer price is practically unaffected

Strip away any portion of this vast, smooth-running human machine, and you make a large part of the meat supply uncertain, lose the benefit of half a century of fruitful experience, and scatter the intelligent energies of men who have devoted a life work toward meeting the needs of a nation in one vital field.

The booklet of preceding chapters in the story of the packing industry will be mailed on request to Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Illinois.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Every available noise-making contrivance was brought into use early yesterday when Richmond began celebrating the signing of the armistice. Shortly after 3 a. m. the signing was announced by the ringing of bells and blowing of whistles. Immediately the populace left their homes and hurried into the streets. Those of religious inspiration went to the churches where special thanksgiving services were held. All day the noise continued with band after band parading along the streets. Last night there was no cessation of the merrymaking.

Rioting scenes accompanied the celebration in Newport News last night of the coming of peace. Thousands of soldiers and sailors took possession of the city. Street cars were wrecked, retaurants were raided, plate glass windows smashed and bonfires were made in the streets from anything that could be moved. Delivery wagons were wrecked and burned. Alleged high prices charged for food were said to be responsible for the raids on restaurants, in which much food was carried off and considerable property damage done.

All government activities ceased scores of industrial plants of Norfolk yesterday closed and business was suspended yesterday afternoon in order to permit the people to celebrate the victory of the American and allied armies over Germany. Early in the afternoon thousands of sailors, as many more civilians and practically every school child in the city united in a monster victory and war work parade, waving flags, shouting and keeping an accompaniment with every conceivable noise-making makeshift available.

News of the signing of the armistice with Germany was received in Petersburg with unbounded joy. The bell of the city hall was rung, as were also the bells of the fire department and those of the churches, while the whistles of the industrial plants sounded their blasts of the glad tidings. The news aroused a degree of enthusiasm heretofore unknown at Camp Lee. The boys who for days have been expecting to be sent overseas shouted praise of the allies, while bands played patriotic airs.
